Most of the flowers listed here not only make fine, everlasting flowers when dried but are choice, long lasting arrangement subjects in the fresh cut stage.

Several other species excellent for Winter Bouquets are listed in Park's big Spring Flower Book for 1960. These species and their page numbers in the Spring Book are as follows:

Armeria, p. 34; Bells of Ireland, p. 5; Celosia, p. 9; Centaurea, p. 9; Gypsophila, p. 38; Golden Ageratum, p. 4; Larkspur, p. 13; Nigella seed pods, p. 16; and various Ornamental Grasses, p. 44.
